A New Bread for Lunch Boxes

IN a countless number of homes, packing lunch boxes is just part of the day's routine. These days, it is not enough for a homemaker to serve attractive and nutritious meals at her own table—she must also think of the members of her family who take their lunches with them.

Possibly, there is no device that gives such interesting variations to sandwiches as different types of bread—but a homemade bread is really tops in delicious flavor. It bespeaks as well as words, the fact that love and care have gone into the preparation of each sandwich.

There is a new Raisin Bran now on the market that has made bread-making a real cinch. It is easy to make and each slice of this golden brown loaf is a treat for the most discriminating taste. When even the simplest type of filling is used with this bread—the result is a really important sandwich. And in addition to its delightful taste, it is well fortified with Vitamin B, an item that all well-bred lunch boxes should contain.

Try this recipe soon and we feel sure that it will become a reigning favorite with your family.

Raisin Bran Bread
3 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 egg, well beaten
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, sugar and milk. Combine egg, milk, molasses, and shortening. Add to flour mixture, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done. Cool. Wrap in damp cloth and store several hours or overnight before slicing.

Ardmore Flier Downs Jap Bomber With Pacific Fleet as Audience

Lt. (jg) Robert Fletcher Holden, Jr., St. George's Apartments, Ardmore, knows why they call them "theaters" of operations.

As a night fighter pilot he shot down a Jap bomber with the whole central Pacific fleet as an audience.

"A heavy bank of clouds covered the moon, so I had to hold my fire until we were almost over the fleet before I could be sure it wasn't a friendly plane," he related last week. "When I got him in my sights he was about 1000 feet away, and he didn't even know I was behind him. He flew straight and level and I got him with one short burst."

The scene was more dramatic, however, from the decks of the ships below.

"One minute there was only the blackness of the night sky—with thousands of men on scores of blacked-out warships looking up intently from their battle stations," Elmont Waite, Associated Press correspondent aboard a carrier flagship in the task force, said in describing the "performance."

"Little red dashes of fire began to chase themselves in an endless stream across one small patch of blackness, almost directly overhead. Then there was a brief flash of yellowish fire where those red streaks were ending—then longer flash, and then a whole flaring mass began to fall.

"That was the end of another twin-engine Japanese bomber—shot down by an American night fighter in full view of our waiting fleet."

The following night Lt. Holden racked up two more Jap bombers and had a part in the interception of still another.

The third, which was downed by Lt. Comdr. Richard Harmer, accidentally joined the two fliers as they sped toward their carrier.

"We were flying along together," Holden said, "and suddenly we noticed that there were three of us. Apparently all three realized what was happening at about the same time, and the Jap darted away. Comdr. Harmer followed and shot him down."

Holden, who has been on active duty with the Navy since February, 1942, and in the Pacific area for eight months, is home on a short leave before going to a Florida station for reassignment.

Lt. Holden, of Haverford, and his wife is the former Sally Taylor Cassard, of Chestnut Hill.

New Field House For Friends Central School

Plans have been approved for a Field House at the Friends Central School in Overbrook. The new building will provide indoor facilities for the students including a ten-foot track, a dirt floor area for inside football and hockey practice, tennis courts and a baseball diamond; two full sized basketball courts, and rooms for wrestling, boxing, handball, squash and other activities. Modern locker rooms and showers will be included. The architects' plans shown above follow closely the Field House at Swarthmore College, considered one of the outstanding buildings of its type in the country.

MILLIONS TRAINED FOR WAR JOBS

During the past four years, more than 13,300,000 men and women enrolled in organized training programs for war jobs, Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission, reports. The training was provided by agencies cooperating with the WMC Bureau of Training. Of this vast group, the Food Production War Training program, conducted through vocational agriculture schools had 3,035,566 enrollments. The Engineering, Science and Management War Training program, given in selected colleges, had 1,558,123 enrollments. The Training Within Industry program enrolled 1,375,767 supervisors who, in turn, provided instruction for millions of war plant workers. The National Youth Administration, which is no longer in existence, provided training for 772,756 persons, during 1942 and 1943 fiscal years.

VETERANS LEARN OF RIGHTS, BENEFITS

Every veteran, upon being discharged, will receive a booklet entitled "Your Rights and Benefits, A Handy Guide for Veterans of the Armed Forces and Their Dependents." The booklet was prepared by the Retraining and Reemployment Administration of the Office of War Mobilization. Nearly 2,500,000 copies of the booklet are now available. Veterans who have already been discharged will be able to obtain copies from draft board, offices of Veterans Administration, USES or community veterans' information centers.

COST OF LIVING REMAINS STABLE

The cost of living has risen six tenths of one per cent in retail prices of essential commodities, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reports. The figure is for the month ended July 15, most recent for which data are available. During the last year, Secretary Perkins added, average prices of family living essentials have risen 1.8 per cent, as compared with advances of 6 per cent and 11 per cent in the years ended July 1943 and July 1942. Higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables were noted. Prices for potatoes, sweet potatoes, spinach and onions were up in July, but there were large decreases for cabbage, lettuce and green beans.

NOW YOU CAN DRAW A BEAD ON 'EM

If you have a few moments to spare, you may begin to oil up the family flintlock. WFB has taken cognizance of the fact that animals and birds are causing widespread destruction to crops and livestock all over the country. The ban on the sale of ammunition to hunters will be removed temporarily in the near future. Available for hunters will be 240 million rim fire cartridges, 8 million center fire cartridges and 130 million shotgun shells. Wolves, coyotes, foxes, weasels, wild ducks, crows and pheasants should not be told of this regulation. Happy hunting.

GO-TO-SCHOOL CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

More than 40 national organizations—educational, economic, social and civic—are supporting the campaign to get employed high school pupils back to the classrooms next month. In 30 States especially organized campaigns are under way. Greatest stress is being placed on the importance of having a well-educated citizenry in the post-war era and the hundreds of thousands of high school boys and girls who have gone to work are being advised by veterans and others of the importance of preparing for the new era. In a joint statement, Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, and John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, said, "Throughout the campaign we are stressing the importance of developing well supervised school-and-work programs in those communities where the labor supply is tight and where the work of young people is both needed and desirable."

NEW CEILING PRICES ON BRIDES?

Now life has no more surprises: In Durban, South Africa, a man was able to get himself a wife by paying her dad $88 in hard cash plus seven cows. So what? So, into the office of the Price Controller there appeared a man who protested that his prospective father-in-law had jacked up the price to $128 in hard cash. The f-i-l explained that increased cost of living made it necessary for him to boost his price. The Controller allowed as how the problem was beyond his province. But, says Canada's Wartime Information Board which reported the incident, it proves that even this primitive man could see the solid common sense and usefulness of price control.

ANZACS MEET U. S. MEN'S FOOD NEEDS

Australia and New Zealand have supplied American forces in the Pacific battle zone with 250,000,000 pounds of meat, 34,000,000 dozen eggs, 175,000,000 pounds of fresh fruit and vegetables, 27,000,000 pounds of butter and 55,000,000 pounds of sugar up to the beginning of this year, the Commonwealth Food Control announces.

NORWEGIAN LABORERS UNDERNOURISHED

The food ration for Norwegians working in Nazi slave labor camps is so small the workers must have food sent to them from their homes, the Swedish newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen says in an article reported to OWI. Attempts to get Norwegians to sign up for "harvest work" failed because all knew that meant working on military fortifications. Not one person signed up.

ARMY CAN FIELD 50,000 BALL TEAMS

The Army purchases annually enough baseball equipment to outfit 50,000 baseball teams and 100,000 softball teams; the Navy enough for more than 14,000 and 22,000 respectively, OWI reports. The Army and Navy buy up about 90 per cent of all sports and game equipment produced in the United States and, as a consequence, civilians can expect little or no increase for the present in the amount left over for their use. Last year the services bought sports and game paraphernalia, devoted to the use of enlisted men, costing $38,000,000. Even so, total new supplies represent approximately one baseball glove for every 17 men in the Army, and for every 28 in the Navy.

CEILINGS RESTORED ON FIDDLES

That ancient fiddle which grandpa bought and which you have been hoping all along may prove to be a Stradivarius has come again under price ceilings—if the instrument is definitely worth more than $100. (If it's a Strad, it's worth thousands!) At any rate, OPA announces that among the several additional commodities which have been brought upon the maximum price regulation for used consumers' goods must be included violins, violas, violoncellos and string basses that are more than 25 years old and of a kind that sold new for more than $100 at retail. "This is done," OPA says, "because these instruments appreciate rather than depreciate in value after a period of time and pricing formulas made for other types of used goods do not result in fair prices when applied to these instruments." Might be well to hold on to the old fiddle, at that.

ROUND-UP

WFB announces: The total value of farm machinery produced during July 1944 was $73,595,553, a figure which is 51.2 per cent higher than the monthly average during the 12 preceding months. . . Manufacturers of corn pickers and binders were urged to speed up their production during August and September so that corn growers will have this machinery for the fall harvesting season. . . American coal mining machinery sent to Britain is helping to raise the rate of production of "strip" coal from the current 10,000,000 tons a year to 18,000,000 or 20,000,000 tons. . . Lumber stocks at sawmills and concentration yards totaled 4,118,083,000 board feet at the end of the second quarter, 1944, the lowest figure since December 1941. . . Exactly 15,000 electric hair clippers will soon be made and the finished snippers will go to the armed services.

OPA summarizes: Chester Bowles, Administrator, says, "Each of us, each Government agency, each industry, each labor union, each group of farmers—and each individual community—will have a share in this enormous (reconversion) task. . . Since April 1943, when the hold-the-line program was issued, rents and retail prices for cost of living items have been generally stabilized—showing a rise of less than 2 per cent. . . I believe that full credit for cost-of-living stabilization must be shared with our farmers, workers and our industrial managers."

Corporal In South Seas Wins National Style Competition

New York City—Fashion authorities awarded Cpl. John H. Peck, now in action in New Guinea, first prize for his informal wartime bride's costume. Cpl. Peck is a New Englander and a former student of the Traphagen School of Fashion, New York City.

He designed the dress in response to a questionnaire sent out by his alma mater on "What Service Men Would Like To See Women On The Home Front Wear For The Duration." Men in the armed forces, separated by thousands of miles, answered the call to the alumni.

John captured the award with his informal wedding gown of romance blue crepe with shoulder bow of peach velvet. Mary Hock, a Southern belle, at present a student of the Traphagen School, wore the gown at a Fashion Show in Town Hall when the award was made. The dress complies with all the present-day conservation demands and is extremely practical since it can be worn on many other occasions.

Peck was born in New Milford, Conn., and before going into the service he worked as designer of women's dresses for a well-known manufacturer in the Southern states.

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.

By Anne Goode

Washington hears that "stoves" in food cans have been developed by two British firms. Compartments in center hold chemicals which will burn when lighted with a cigarette or match.

Gasoline situation will get worse instead of better, say oil officials. Although no talk of smaller rations, quality will be inferior.

Don't let the drastic butter shortage deprive your table of a spread for bread. Vitaminized margarine is the perfect answer. It is nutritious and healthful and can be used in exactly the same ways and proportions as butter.

Fewer canned tomatoes for civilians this Fall. Since they require no special canning equipment you should make sure that you can enough for your family's use. . . No canned sauerkraut this Fall. Unless you like the barreled variety you'd best can plenty of that, too.

If you're having difficulty getting ice box dishes and covers, try using your real mayonnaise jars to hold that last bit of food for tomorrow's soup. They're very handy and don't require much space either.

Kansas women take a bow! It's been reported that some 30,000 of them are driving tractors and doing other important wheat harvest jobs.

WFB says there will be little hope for new radios for civilians this year.

"Harvest" . . . an original lithograph by Adolph Dab

EVERYBODY PITCHES IN

"You help me, and I'll help you" . . . it's an old farm custom for the men to pool their efforts and equipment when there's a big job to be done. And that's one of the reasons why the farmers are beating wartime obstacles and meeting the great needs for foods.

Next winter, for instance, you'll enjoy the benefits of the friendly spirit of co-operation between Supplee farmers and their neighbors that made it possible to harvest the crops, and store the feeds. For these will help keep the flow of milk at the highest possible level during the lower production months ahead.

Right now, there's sufficient fresh, pure Supplee Milk to meet all your real needs . . . you can get it from your Supplee milk man or woman, or from your neighborhood store. But we do ask you to be conservative in your use of cream and milk by-products. For these have again been restricted by government order so that they may be preserved in more permanent forms, such as butter and cheese, and shipped overseas to our armies and allies who require them now in ever-increasing quantities.

Now, as always, Supplee is working with the farmers to assure you your full share of the available supplies in milk that's as fine, and sweet, as it's possible to produce . . . and to bring you the milk that's extra nourishing—Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk with the cream mixed throughout.
